

COVE Distinguished Lecture on Values and Ethics

Trying Political Leaders

One of America's foremost political thinkers

Michael Walzer addresses a wide variety of topics in political theory and moral philosophy in his writings; these include political obligation, just and unjust war, nationalism and ethnicity, economic justice and the welfare state. He has played a critical role in the revival of a practical, issue focused ethics and in the development of a pluralist approach to political and moral life. Walzer's books include Arguing About War (2004), On Toleration (1999), Spheres of Justice (1983) and Just and Unjust Wars (1977); he has served as editor of the political journal, Dissent, since the early days of the Civil Rights movement. He taught at Harvard University from 1966-1980 before moving to the Institute for Advanced Study, where he is currently Professor Emeritus in the School of Social Science.

Professor Michael Walzer
Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton

Thursday, March 18, 7:30 p.m.
Bell Theatre, Minto Case Building
Carleton University

Admission is free.

Lecture sponsored by the Department of Philosophy, the Department of Political Science and the Faculty of Public Affairs.