Canadian Cinema

Through a close analysis of films from both cultures, this course should establish the distinctly Canadian modes our cinema has developed.

Special attention will be paid to the similarities and differences between English Canada and Quebec, relating them both to the economic and political realities of our country, and to the variety of thematic orderings of Canadian culture that can be found in writers like Northrop Frye and Margaret Atwood.

*F,W,S indicates term of offering. Courses offered in the fall and winter will be followed by T.

The number following the letter indicates the credit weight of the course: 1 denotes a half-course credit, 2 denotes a full-course credit, etc.
