The School for Studies in Art and Culture offers a program of study and research leading to the degree of Master of Arts in Canadian Art History. The program is unique in its breadth and comprehensiveness. Students can choose to focus on art and architecture drawn from Canada's wealth of different artistic communities including the traditions of Euro-Canadians, aboriginal peoples, other ethnic groups, and women. They are encouraged to consider these traditions as aesthetic expressions and within broad contexts of race and gender and of social, political and economic history.

Qualifying-Year Program

Applicants who do not qualify for direct admission to the master's program may be admitted to a qualifying-year program. Applicants who lack an honours degree, but have a pass degree with an honours standing (at least B overall) will normally be admitted to a qualifying-year program. The regulations governing the qualifying-year are outlined in the general section of this calendar, page 15.

Master of Arts

Admission Requirements

The minimum requirement for admission to the master's program is an honours bachelor's degree (or the equivalent) in art history or a related discipline, with at least high honours standing. Related disciplines may include anthropology, Canadian history, and Canadian studies. Applicants without a background in art history may be required to take up to a maximum of two full credits in certain designated courses from the undergraduate art history program in addition to their regular program.

Program Requirements

The specific program requirements for students in the M.A. program are as follows:

- Art History 11.500: The Practice of Canadian Art (one full credit)
  - Art History 11.599: M.A. Thesis (two full credits)
  - Four half-credit courses, with a minimum of two and no more than three to be taken from the following six areas of concentration in Canadian art: Euro-American tradition, Indian art, Inuit art, architecture, photography, folk and popular arts
- One half-credit may (subject to the approval of the graduate supervisor) be taken outside the Art History program. A maximum of one full-course (or the equivalent) may be selected from Art History offerings at the 400-level.

The student's program will be developed in consultation with the graduate supervisor and Art History graduate faculty, and must be approved by the graduate supervisor. The prescribed program will take into account the student's background and special interests, as well as the research strengths of the Art History graduate faculty.

Deadlines

Thesis Proposal: Full-time students will normally submit their thesis topic to the thesis proposal board no later than the middle of the second term of registration for students enrolled full-time and no later than the middle of the fifth term of registration for students enrolled part-time.

Thesis: A candidate will inform the thesis supervisor two weeks in advance of the date on which the thesis will be submitted. The date of the defence will be set upon submission of the thesis. The defence will take place no sooner than two weeks after the date of submission; therefore, there will be a minimum of four weeks between the candidate's statement of intent and the defence.

Language Requirements

The student will be required to demonstrate a reading knowledge of French (or another language to be approved by the Art History graduate supervisor).

Academic Standing

A standing of B– or better must be obtained in each course counted towards the master's degree.
